1 About Quickstart Guides

Our Quickstart Guides are intended to help you to get started with Woojum™. They are exactly what they are called, Quickstart, which means they do not explain the whys and wherefores, they simply set out the step-by-step way to achieve a particular objective.

All of our Quickstart Guides are written on the assumption that you are Logged In to your Woojum™ Account and your Toolbar is open.

2 Create the Link

This Guide is about Linking Timelines within your own Package. You don't need anybody's permission to do that. If you want to Link Timelines with somebody else who has a Package of their own you will need to get them to agree. That is a two-way process which is described in our Quickstart Guides 6 and 7.

- If you have more than 1 Timeline use your Personal Timeline Dropdown Selector to display the Timeline you want to create a Link from
- Click the Yellow Pencil Icon next to the Event you want to create the Link from. This will open it for editing
- In the first empty Links field
 - Click the Dropdown Selector to display a list of all the Timelines you can Link to

- Click the Title of the Timeline you want to Link to
- Click the Submit Button to save your changes

This Timeline will now show the Link in the form of a Button in the Event you added it to.

The screenshot shows a digital timeline interface with a central vertical blue line representing the year axis. The years 1975, 1980, and 1981 are clearly visible. Events are listed on both sides of the line, each with a date, a title, and a short description. Some events include small images and buttons.

Year	Date	Title	Description	Image	Button
1975	14 June	Susan's Wedding	I remember Susan coming home from work one evening in 1973 and telling me she had just met the man she was going to marry. True to her word, she married him today. His name is Colin, and Susan is now Mrs. Thomas.	Car	None
1980	2 April	Our first grandchild!	Our first grandchild, Phillip, was born to Susan and Colin today. Bill couldn't wait to get a photo and is already talking about taking him to see Arsenal play.	Person	Phillip Thomas
1981	14 March	My father Dies	My Dad (Lionel Smith, born 20 October 1901) died today. Mum is devastated, and Bill will miss him a great deal. They'd become very close over the years, I think partly because Bill has never known anything about his own parents - not even their names.	Grass	None
1981	9 February	Bill Haley	Bill Haley (born 1931), known by some as the Father of Rock and Roll, Haley and His Comets released their first album, Rock Around the Clock, in 1956.	Person	None
1981	23 April	William Hartnell	William Hartnell (born 1906), English actor, the first Doctor Who.	None	None
1981	15 April	Jean-Paul Sartre	Jean-Paul Sartre (born 1905), French philosopher and writer, Nobel Laureate.	Person	None
